Heart Safe Communities UK

PRESS RELEASE

Heart Safe Communities UK would like to announce the appointment of new volunteer Trustee Emma Kirkpatrick to its charity.

Trustee Emma will be HSCUK Charity's Trustee - Governance lead.

HSCUK Charity Chair Russell B. Hamilton said "I'm absolutely delighted to welcome Emma as a member of our small but hopefully growing team.

As a charity we are keen to ensure that all Trustees are not only able to contribute across the broad range of skills but have expertise in specialist areas that make us better and stronger as a team. Governance is one such area and is very important to all charities and organisations.

Emma brings skills and experience that will be invaluable in taking the Charity forward.

I am confident that Emma will make a very positive contribution to the charity".

Emma said "I feel very fortunate to have been asked to join HSCUK's board as a Trustee and I am looking forward to being a part of such a passionate and inspiring team. I believe the work the charity does is invaluable and being able to assist in the next stage of its journey is very exciting!"

Chair Russell B. Hamilton went on to say "I hope that in our search for further Trustees we can find similarly high calibre people with expertise in income generation, public relations & marketing together with a clinical advisor with experience in cardiac / emergency care.

Notes:

Emma is an Associate Chartered Trade Mark Attorney and also advises on general intellectual property law matters. She has previously worked as a primary school teacher, in hospitality, as a medical receptionist and as a Court of Protection Officer.
